

Agricultural & Veterinary Safety

Agricultural Safety - Guidance and training is available for agricultural workers and researchers, and those performing similar work, such as landscaping and sports-fields maintenance.

Veterinary Safety involves safe work with animals including animal handling and preventing zoonoses.

The University's Manager, Agricultural & Veterinary Safety, M. Christi Cooper may be contacted by email at mcooper@uoguelph.ca [1] or by phone at 519-824-4120 extension 52049.

Field equipment presents many hazards. In order to address the health, safety and environmental challenges specific to agriculture related work, training or programs have been developed in a number of areas.

Review and register for Agricultural & Veterinary Safety Training Courses [2], using the EHS Course Registration System [3].

---

Source

URL: <https://www.uoguelph.ca/hr/hr-services-environmental-health-safety-programs/agricultural-industrial-veterinary>

Links

[1] <http://mcooper@uoguelph.ca> [2] <https://www.uoguelph.ca/hr/about-hr/environmental-health-safety-ehs/ehs-training/course-descriptions> [3] <https://ehs.opened.uoguelph.ca/index.cfm?>