Description

WALTHAM is pleased to announced a call for research project applications to the 2018 Collaborative WALTHAM Human-Animal Interaction Research Program. The purpose of this call is to continue the WALTHAM tradition of supporting high quality science in partnership with leading NGOs, professional associations and funding bodies, that provides the evidence base critical to fully understanding the mutually beneficial relationship between people and companion animals.

Eligibility

Research eligible for funding under this call must focus on HAI (specifically companion animal ownership or interaction) as it relates to one or more of the following preferred topic areas:

- The impact of pets on human physical and socio-emotional health (includes the concepts of physical activity, wellness, engagement, social support, usefulness, purpose and connectedness)

- Maintenance of healthy body weight in people and pets (includes how the behaviours of both species impact the other)

Please note, preference will be given to projects that examine these issues across the lifespan and consider the importance of animal attachment and/or degree of interaction in the outcomes

Funding Availability

There are up to three awards available, each for a maximum of £240,000 to support high quality, innovative research collaborations.

Maximum Project Value

£240,000

Indirect Costs

10%

Project Duration

There is a four-year period for each funded project.

Data collection is expected to be completed over a three-year period. This allows for six-month preparatory period and a final six-month period for final data analysis and write up.
