Description

ArcticNet is proud to support the release of the Inuit Nunangat Research Program (INRP)'s Call for Proposals (CFP). This is an exciting opportunity for Inuit to lead research without having to partner with a southern university, and to propose projects on issues that matter to their communities. The INRP is the first Inuit-led, directed and governed research program in Canada funded under our new North by North Program [2], ArcticNet's North by North programming addresses significant gaps in northern and Inuit participation in the research and innovation ecosystem.

The members and organizations of the Inuit Advisory Committee \(IAC\) [3] invite all Inuit to submit research proposals in their preferred language and format. Inuit are eligible to submit their proposals as the project leaders without the need to partner with an academic researcher.

Please submit proposals directly to ITK via <https://www.itk.ca/inuit-nunangat-research-program/> [1] or to INRP@ITK.ca [4].

Eligibility

The members and organizations of the Inuit Advisory Committee (IAC) invite all Inuit to submit research proposals in their preferred language and format. Inuit are eligible to submit their proposals as the project leaders without the need to partner with an academic researcher.

Funding Availability

The Inuit Nunangat Research Program (INRP) is seeking Inuit-led research via its first Call for Proposals. Up to $900k is available per year for two years.

Special Notes

Please note that research activities carried out in the context of COVID-19 need to adhere to the University of Guelph COVID-19 research principles, policies, guidelines and processes as they may be updated from time to time and communicated on the Office of Research web-page [5].

How to Apply

The proposal form and guidance documents can be found on ITK's INRP webpage [1] in various languages and formats. Applicants can submit proposals directly to this webpage or to INRP@ITK.ca [6].
