

BioCanRx Indigenous Student Summer Internship Program

Sponsor

BioCanRx in partnership with Ontario Institute for Cancer Research (OICR)

Description

BioCanRx in partnership with OICR is proud to support up to three students working with Ontario-based researchers as part of the program, which provides Indigenous undergraduate university or college students with hands-on research or policy experience in cancer. This is accomplished through internships with research groups at post-secondary institutions across Canada.

This paid 14-week internship will take place between May and August 2024, and comes with an award to the student of $9,000.

Indigenous undergraduate or college students interested in gaining experience in cancer biotherapeutics research should apply with a BioCanRx network investigator.

Funding Availability
