Description

Applications for the 2017-2018 Species at Risk Research Fund for Ontario (SARRFO) should focus on innovative scientific research that addresses topics contained in the priority categories below which will answer questions that are relevant to the protection and recovery of species at risk. Proposed activities must target/benefit species listed as extirpated, endangered, threatened or special concern on the species at risk in Ontario list. Only proposed activities occurring between April 1, 2017 and February 28, 2018 (for the 2017-2018 fiscal year) and April 1, 2018 and February 28, 2019 (for the 2018-2019 fiscal year) are eligible for funding consideration.

Research Proposal Applications will be considered that focus on:

- Scientific research actions
- Acquiring and analyzing a new dataset or meta-analysis of existing datasets
- Undertaking new research projects or adding a new component to an on-going project
- Inventory and monitoring actions associated with a defined scientific question and methodology may also be considered. Long-term monitoring projects without a defined scientific question are not eligible for SARRFO funding but are encouraged to apply to SARSF if applicable.

If you are applying for work that builds on a previously funded SARRFO/SARF work, please explicitly state what has been accomplished so far, what deliverables you achieved, and how this work is different from or builds on past work. Do not assume reviewers know of your previous work or have access to your project files.

Funding Availability

Accepting funding requests for research projects extending over one or two years.

Maximum Project Value

$30,000 per year per project for a maximum of $60,000 over two years

Indirect Costs

Indirect costs are not an eligible expense.

Deadlines

If College-level review is required, your College will communicate its earlier internal deadlines.

Type	Date
External Deadline	Thursday, December 15, 2016 - 11:59am
Internal Deadline	Thursday, December 8, 2016 - 4:30pm

How to Apply

Submit your proposal including a signed OR-5 form to the Office of Research at resserv@uoguelph.ca [2] by the internal deadline. Your proposal will be reviewed and the approved proposal returned to you before the external deadline. You will then follow the instructions in the 2017-2018 Guidelines document.
