For More Information

For full application information, see the 2025 Program Guidelines [1].

Description

The Next Generation of Scientists Award is an innovative two-pronged grant that aims to support the most promising postdoctoral fellows in becoming the next generation of cancer researchers in Canada.

The program includes a one-year postdoctoral salary award (part 1), to enable postdoctoral fellows to obtain a research position at an eligible Canadian institution. Once this position is obtained, the candidate will be offered a 2-year Operating Grant (part 2).

Eligibility

Applicants must hold Canadian citizenship or permanent residency status and are required to complete both parts of the program.

Part 1 - Postdoctoral Fellowship: Must have completed at least two (2) years of postdoctoral training at the time of accepting the fellowship.

Part 2 - Operating Grant: Must obtain a faculty position in a Canadian university or affiliated accredited research centre

Funding Availability

Part 1 - Postdoctoral Fellowship: $50,000 over 1 year

Part 2 - Operating Grant: $135,000 over 2 years
