Description

Chicken Farmers of Canada (CFC) is seeking high quality proposals to carry out two different applied research projects:

1. Eradication of disease-carrying insects in chicken broiler farms; and
2. Control of cellulitis in farmed chicken.

Applications submitted under these Requests for Proposal (RFPs) process must pertain directly to one of the two specific topics listed.

Please note: The Canadian Poultry Research Council (CPRC) is assisting CFC in its process to develop the RFP into a research project. LOI submissions are to be submitted to CPRC but clearly identified as being in response to the CFC Request for Proposals.

Funding Availability

This project funding is separate to that provided by the CPRC.

CFC's contribution to the proposal will be limited to a maximum of $50,000 per project.
