

CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholars Program for Early Career Researchers - 2024

Sponsor

Canadian Institute for Advanced Research (CIFAR)

This program is generously supported by the Azrieli Foundation and the Love Family Leadership Development Fund.

Description

The CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholars program provides funding and support to help scholars build their network and develop essential skills to become the next generation of research leaders.

CIFAR invites exceptional early career researchers to participate in CIFAR's network of more than 400 researchers from over 22 countries, who together are pursuing answers to some of the most complex challenges facing the world today. The CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholars program provides funding, skills training, mentorship, and opportunities to collaborate with outstanding colleagues from diverse disciplines, positioning scholars as research leaders and agents of change.

Eligibility

Applicants can be from anywhere in the world, must hold a PhD (or equivalent) and be within the first five years of a full-time academic position (responsible for independent research program and supervising trainees). Post-doctorate fellows are not to apply. Applicants' research interests must be aligned with the themes of a CIFAR research program recruiting in 2023–2025.

Research programs accepting applications:

- Future Flourishing
- Gravity and the Extreme Universe
- Humanity's Urban Future
- The Multiscale Human

Prize

Scholars receive:

- $100,000 CAD in unrestricted research support over two years
- A two-year term in a CIFAR research program, a global network of top-tier research leaders
- Opportunities to network, collaborate and form a community with colleagues from diverse disciplines
- Mentorship from a senior researcher within a CIFAR research program
- Specialized leadership and communication skills training, and support to put their skills into action

During the two-year term of their award, Global Scholars are expected to:

- Attend CIFAR research program meetings (usually 2–3 per year, depending on the program) in Canada and various locations around the world. While at meetings and where appropriate, interact and collaborate with fellow program members on research areas of common interest to the program.
- Attend the annual CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholar meetings (usually in held in early May). The 2024 meeting will be held in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada.
- Report on successes and activities annually, and where possible and appropriate, interact with CIFAR stakeholders and funders to share their experience.
- Acknowledge CIFAR as a funder in research publications and presentations supported by the program’s funding, use ‘CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholar’ in their professional signature and indicate CIFAR as an affiliation.
- Attend at least two virtual development meetings for CIFAR Azrieli Global Scholars per year.
