

CIHR Fellowship and Fall 2017 Priority Announcement

Sponsor

Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR)

Description

Fellowships provide support for highly qualified applicants in all areas of health research [1] at the post-PhD degree or post-health professional degree stages to add to their experience by engaging in health research either in Canada or abroad.

CIHR Research Priority Areas

- Clinical Nutrition [2]
- Diabetes [3]
- Gastroenterology [4]
- HIV/AIDS [5]
- Research in First Nations, Métis and/or Inuit Health [6]

Eligibility

1. As the Nominated Principal Applicant, the candidate must be a trainee [7] (and maintain such status throughout the award duration) and meet the minimum commitment of 75% of their time in the research fellowship role proposed in the application. Note: For the purpose of this funding opportunity, trainees must not hold a tenure-track or tenured faculty position, nor can they be on leave from such a position (generally “tenure or tenure-track” refers to an open-ended academic position in which the holder can form a research group, apply for externally funded research as a principal investigator, and also teach).
2. A primary supervisor [8] must be identified on the application. An additional supervisor may also be identified.
3. As of November 1st, 2017, the applicant must hold or be completing a PhD or a regulated health professional degree. The applicant must expect to complete all of the requirements of the degree by the latest possible date on which they can take up their award (see Conditions of Funding). To determine if a particular health professional degree is eligible, please consult the list of Eligible Health Professions [9].
4. The program is open to both Canadians and citizens of other countries.
5. These awards are normally held at Canadian institutions. However, Canadian citizens and permanent residents are eligible to hold their awards outside Canada. Applicants, who are neither Canadian citizens nor permanent residents of Canada, are eligible for awards to be held in Canada only.

6. A recipient of a Doctoral Award (DRA) with a health professional degree may apply to the Fellowship funding opportunity no earlier than during the last year of their award. If a recipient of a DRA with a health professional degree applies to the Fellowship funding opportunity for doctoral support before the last year of the DRA, funding for the currently-held DRA will be cancelled as of the first potential effective date of the Fellowship award, even if the application is not successful through the Fellowship funding opportunity.
7. Applicants may submit only one application per year (September 1 to August 31) for funding from the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC), the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) or the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC). However, individuals eligible to apply to the Vanier Canada Graduate Scholarships program [10] or the Banting Postdoctoral Fellowships program [11] may also submit an application to the CIHR Fellowship program (this is the only exception where an individual may submit two applications in the same year).

This Funding Opportunity participates in the eApproval process [13]. As such, once submitted the application will be electronically directed to the proposed Institution Paid for review and approval. The eApproval process allows Administrators at the Institution to review and electronically approve an application for which the applicant has identified their institution as the Institution Paid. Once the application is reviewed and approved by the Institution, it will be submitted electronically to CIHR on behalf of the applicant.

Please see Fellowship [14] and the Fall 2017 Priority Announcement [15] for more information.
