Description

The Project Grant program [5] is designed to capture ideas with the greatest potential for important advances in fundamental or applied health-related knowledge, health care, health systems, and/or health outcomes by supporting projects of research proposed and conducted by individual researchers or groups of researchers in all areas of health. The best ideas may stem from new, incremental, innovative, and/or high-risk lines of inquiry or knowledge translation approaches.

Research Areas

The Project Grant program is open to applicants in all areas of health research that are aligned with the CIHR mandate: "To excel, according to internationally accepted standards of scientific excellence, in the creation of new knowledge and its translation into improved health for Canadians, more effective health services and products, and a strengthened Canadian health care system".

Interdisciplinary Research

- Applications involving interdisciplinary research are accepted and encouraged in all committees. However, the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC), the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR), and the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC) have formed a Tri-Agency Interdisciplinary Peer Review Committee [10] (TAIPR), with the following mandate [11], specifically dedicated for the review of interdisciplinary research.

Funding Availability

The total amount available for the Fall 2024 and Spring 2025 Project Grant Competitions is $650M.

Special Notes

NEW in Fall 2024: Research Security

The granting agencies have introduced new measures to safeguard the integrity of research against risks to national and economic security. Depending on whether or not their research proposals involve private sector partner organizations or aim to advance a sensitive technology research area, applicants to the Fall 2024 Project Grant competition may need to complete new risk assessment and attestation forms. Learn more about research security at CIHR [12].
