

Data Champions Pilot Project

Sponsor

Digital Research Alliance of Canada

Description

The objective of this Pilot Project [1] is to advance awareness, understanding, development, and adoption of research data management (RDM) tools, best practices, and resources in Canada.

Broadly speaking, this Pilot will further the Alliance's research data management mandate by promoting sound RDM practices and contributing to a broader culture change in the conduct of digital research, and ultimately fostering excellence in Canadian research. As a tangential benefit, the inaugural Data Champions cohort will provide valuable feedback on how the Alliance can sustain, improve, and grow the Data Champions model, and associated Community of Practice initiated by this Pilot, into a potential Data Champions Program. Any resources and/or funding needed to scale this Pilot into a fully-fledged Data Champions Program will hence be informed by the Pilot experience and articulated in future funding requests and corporate plans.

Eligibility

This is an open competition and involves Applicants in RDM, such as, researchers, librarians and data professionals. Individuals applying for a grant must be affiliated with an eligible institution and must maintain such affiliation for the duration of the grant period.

Under any activity, consideration during adjudication will be given to the integration of Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Accessibility principles at all relevant stages (e.g., team formation, recruitment of graduate students, if applicable), and to the participation of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis researchers.

Funding Availability
