

Faculty Information Exchange 2016-17: Exploring responsible conduct of research through case studies

Date Location
Thursday March 16, 2017 12:00pm to 1:00pm UC 441

Description

Led by

Jill Rogers - Managing Director, Research Operations, Office of Research*

Randy Ragan - Manager, Legal Review, Office of Research*

What would you do if you became aware that someone in your lab fabricated data, or did not properly acknowledge someone in a journal article or scientific presentation? What are your obligations if you hold a position with, or receive income from a sponsor of your research?

This session will review the policy framework of research integrity/research misconduct that applies to all researchers (e.g., faculty, students, PDFs, etc.) at the University of Guelph. Participants will gain experience by exploring and discussing real cases of research misconduct. This session is to engage participants in an interesting and informative dialogue.

Alert Classifications Category:

Workshops and Events

Disciplines:

Health and Life Sciences

Humanities

Information and Communications Technology

Physical Sciences and Engineering

Social Sciences

Source

URL: <https://www.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts/content/faculty-information-exchange-2016-17-exploring-responsible-conduct-research-through-case>