Sponsor

CIHR Institute of Gender and Health

Description

The Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) is pleased to announce that funds are available to support Canadian researcher interested in investigating sex and gender in health through transnational collaborations.

Through the leadership of the CIHR Personalized Health Initiative [1], the CIHR Institute of Gender and Health is a member of GENDER-NET Plus [2] - an international consortium of 16 research funders in 13 countries. These 16 partners have joined forces to launch a co-funded Call for Proposals, to support research that aims to address urgent societal challenges through a sex and gender lens.

GENDER-NET Plus is the first European Research Area Network (ERA-NET [3]) Cofund whose aim is to foster the integration of sex- and gender-based analysis [4] (SGBA) into research and funding programs.

The call will invite interdisciplinary applications exploring sex and gender effects and dimensions in research topics relating to one or more of the following United Nations Sustainable Development Goals [5] (SDGs):

1. Good health and well-being (SDG 3)
    - SDG3: Gender-based violence (topic 1.1)
    - SDG3: Sex, Gender and Aging (topic 1.2)
    - SDG3: Sex, Gender and Health (topic 1.3)
2. Infrastructure, Industrialization and Innovation (SDG 9)
    - SDG9: Gender and New Technologies (topic 2.1)
    - SDG9: Gender in Entrepreneurship and in the Innovation System (topic 2.2)
3. Climate Action (SDG 13)
    - SDG13: Gender Dimension in Climate Behavior and Decision-Making (topic 3.1)

The call will invite both basic and applied research. For any chosen topic, an interdisciplinary approach that addresses the interplay between society - technology and culture is encouraged. Research that addresses the social dimension of gender is strongly encouraged.

IMPORTANT: CIHR will support applications that respond to SDG 3, Good Health and Well-being, topics 1.2 and 1.3 only.
