In cooperation with the University of Konstanz, KoWi - the cooperation office for the German science organizations for the European Union, based in Brussels - will give an introduction to EU-Funding opportunities for collaborative research, via the Horizon Europe programme.

The speakers will introduce the programme itself and then focus on its Pillar 2 – Global Challenges, which mainly offers top-down funding for international research consortia, and for which Canadian entities are fully eligible thanks to Canada's association to the Horizon Europe programme.

Speakers:
