Special Notes

All parties involved with the Mitacs Globalink program must comply with Mitacs's Research Ethics Policy and other research integrity policies at the home and host institutions. All parties involved with Mitacs programs should review the following policy statement and guidelines provided by Innovation, Science and Economic Development Canada (ISED) and the Government of Canada:

- [ISED "Policy Statement on Research Security and COVID-19" \[2\]](#)
- [Government of Canada "Safeguarding Your Research" Portal \[3\]](#)

Intern responsibilities:

- Make all necessary preparations for travel abroad with the appropriate institution office(s)
- Obtain appropriate visa, work permit or other immigration documentation required for the destination
- Attend any mandatory sessions as required by the home institution
- Work full-time on the research project (at least 75% abroad, and up to 25% at the home institution)
- Submit a final report and exit survey to Mitacs at the end of the project

Home supervisor responsibilities:

- Adhere to institutional policies for research abroad
- Provide ongoing direction and research support to the participant prior to and during the research project
- Submit an exit survey and sign the final report prepared by the participant.

Host supervisor responsibilities:

Published on Research Alerts (<https://www.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts>)

2. Reach out to the local Mitacs advisor [5] (Emily Gordon) to confirm the project eligibility and discuss next steps. They will then share the link to the application portal.
3. Identify all the project applicants (intern, professors) as Mitacs cannot connect interested interns with supervisors.
4. Start the application on the application portal by identifying the Mitacs international partner. All participants must create their profile online and fill in their personal information.
5. Complete the application: Additional information will be provided in the application portal.
6. Note: Please make sure to select 'Globalink Research Award: Thematic Call' as the funding model under 'Internship Budget and Schedule'.
7. Send the research proposal to the local Mitacs Advisor for pre-submission review.
8. Once the application is complete, each participant needs to sign-off it on the portal.
9. The Office of Research Services (ORS) or designated signature will be required on all completed applications. The local Mitacs advisors will support the applicants to obtain the university.
10. The Mitacs local advisor submits the application.

Research projects selected through this call for applications will have up to one year to begin after the outcome letter is issued. All potential applicants must check with their institutions about their policies on international travel prior to submitting an application.
