For More Information

For full details on the program, please visit the NRC-Mitacs-RWTH Globalink Research Award Program [1] web-page.

Description

RWTH Aachen University (RWTH) proudly announces a new program in cooperation with Mitacs, a Canadian not-for-profit organization that has designed and delivered research and training programs in collaboration with Canadian universities, companies, federal and provincial governments, and the National Research Council of Canada (NRC), one of RWTH's key partners in North America and Canada's largest federal research organization.

Starting in 2021, this program allows 25 students per year from RWTH to conduct combined research stays at a Canadian partner university participating in the program.

The placements are jointly funded by the NRC, Mitacs and RWTH and can be from six to twelve months in duration. The goals of the program are to strengthen and intensify relations between RWTH, the NRC, and participating Canadian universities; develop international networks; establish joint research and industry projects; prepare joint publications; enhance researcher training; and foster other forms of collaboration.

This opportunity is being advertised via Research Alerts for faculty interested in hosting RWTH students related to this program. Interested faculty should contact Étienne Pineault at Mitacs (epineault@mitacs.ca [2]) to complete an Expression of Interest (EOI). Please note, projects must be part of the NRC Challenge or Supercluster Program.

Maximum Project Value

Up to $18,000 CAD.
