TRANSCAN: Sustained collaboration of national and regional programs in cancer research

Description

The Third Joint Transnational Call for Proposals 2023 (JTC 2023) will be launched in May 2023 on the topic: "Translational research on cancer epigenetics."

The ERA-NET TRANSCAN-3, in continuity of the preceding ERA-NET TRANSCAN-2, has the goal of coordinating national and regional funding programs for research in the area of translational cancer research. The specific challenge is to promote a transnational collaborative approach between scientific teams in demanding areas of translational cancer research while avoiding the duplication of efforts and ensuring a more efficient use of available resources with the end goal of producing significant results of higher quality and impact and share data and infrastructures.

The call will be published simultaneously by the funding organizations in their respective countries and on the TRANSCAN website: <https://www.transcan.eu>. [1]

The TRANSCAN-3 JTC 2023 will be implemented through a two-stage submission procedure: pre-proposals and full proposals. The call is planned to be launched on May 9th 2023 with a submission deadline for pre-proposals in July 2023. It is expected that consortia invited to the full-proposal stage will be asked to submit their proposal in December 2023.
