

Research Knowledge Share - Worlding Difference: How to Build A Radically Accessible Online Space for Teaching, Research, and Knowledge Sharing with Dr. Carla Rice

Updated Information

The link to the Microsoft Teams meeting has been updated.

Description

The College of Social and Applied Human Science is offering an exciting platform where researchers across the college will have the opportunity to present on a research topic of their choosing followed by an engaging Q&A session with the audience.

These research sessions are intended to highlight some of the exciting research done in CSAHS.

Dr. Carla Rice will be presenting on "Worlding Difference: How to Build a Radically Accessible Online Space for Teaching, Research, and Knowledge Sharing". Dr. Carla Rice is a Canada Research Chair in Care, Gender, and Relationships and a Full Professor in the Family Relations and Applied Nutrition department. As the Founder/Director of Project Re•Vision and the Revisioning Differences Media Arts Laboratory (REDLAB), Dr. Rice seeks to explore how communities can use arts-informed research to advance social inclusion and justice by challenging stereotypes.
