

ResearchLink System Service Interruption

Published on Research Alerts (<https://www.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts>)

ResearchLink System Service Interruption

Due to ongoing system problems, the ResearchLink module for Human Ethics will continue to be unavailable while the team investigates and resolves the issues.

In the interim, the manual process using Word forms for protocol submissions and management has been reinstated to ensure the Research Ethics process can continue as seamlessly as possible. The necessary documents are now available on the Human Ethics website.

If researchers currently have a submission under review, no action is required – submissions will be reviewed as usual, and researchers will be contacted by the Ethics Office.

We ask for your patience as we work to support you during this period.

Please note that ResearchLink Ethics training is on hold while the system is unavailable.

Alert ClassificationsCategory:

Research Management and Support

Disciplines:

Health and Life Sciences

Humanities

Information and Communications Technology

Physical Sciences and Engineering

Social Sciences

Source

URL:<https://www.uoguelph.ca/research/alerts/content/researchlink-system-service-interruption>