

SFARI: Pilot and Research Awards 2018

Updated Information

- Internal deadline updated to February 16, 2018 from February 19, 2018 (Family Day)

Sponsor

Simons Foundation

Description

Pilot: Innovative, high-impact proposals requesting support for small-scale projects or early-stage experiments that will build on preliminary data or a prior track record and lead to competitive applications for funding by SFARI or other organizations. Investigators new to the field of autism are encouraged to apply for Pilot Awards.

Research: Application type for investigators with demonstrated expertise, for proposals requesting support for compelling, high-impact research on an experimental hypothesis for which, in most cases, preliminary data have already been gathered. The foundation will also consider projects focusing on a central hypothesis where success depends on close collaboration between two or more labs.

Eligibility

All applicants and key collaborators must hold a Ph.D., M.D. or equivalent degree and have a faculty position or the equivalent at a college, university, medical school or other research facility. In addition, eligible applicants must have independent lab space at their institution. There are no citizenship or country requirements.

Maximum Project Value

Pilot: $330,000 USD max including IDC; Research: $975,000 USD max including IDC

Indirect Costs

20% of direct costs

Project Duration

Pilot: for two years; Research: for three years
