Turkey Farmers of Canada

For More Information

The Canadian Poultry Research Council (CPRC) is administering the Request for Proposals (RFPs) for the Turkey Farmers of Canada (TFC).

For complete program guidelines, please visit the CPRC's webpage which outlines the TFC program details [1].

Description

The Turkey Farmers of Canada (TFC) is accepting applications for the Request for Proposals (RFP). The priorities for this RFP call are:

1. Histomoniasis/Blackhead
 - Control strategies (e.g., vaccinations, medications, management practices);
2. Avian Metapneumovirus
 - Control strategies;
3. Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI) Vaccination
 - Efficacious HPAI vaccine for turkeys and potential novel delivery methods.

TFC is requesting that interested applicants follow the submission guidelines as detailed in the Canadian Poultry Research Council's Call for Letters of Intent. LOI submissions are to be submitted to CPRC but clearly identified as being in response to the TFC Request for Proposals.

Details of the 2025 TFC Request for Proposals, application instructions, and a description of the review process are available on the CPRC site. [1] You can also download the RFP application [2].

Maximum Project Value

This project funding is separate to that provided by the Canadian Poultry Research Council (CPRC).

- TFC's contribution to each proposal will be limited to a maximum of $60,000.
- Industry dollars, whether from TFC or other industry sources, must be matched with non-industry dollars at a ratio of at least 1:1. Funding ratios with higher contributions from non-industry sources are preferred.
