Research and Grants Program [1]

Description

WSIB is committed to providing exceptional programs and services to the people and businesses of Ontario.

The objective of the WSIB Research Grants Program is to enhance workplace injury and illness insurance system outcomes by supporting innovative proposals that are aligned to their strategic mandate.

The program accomplishes this through highly practical research and training studies delivered by professionals and organizations that can strengthen Ontario's workers' compensation system now and in the future.

The 2024 WSIB Research and Grants Program will focus on research that can help make Ontario the safest place to work. Four considerations for the competition include:

1. how they work;
2. how they approach health and safety;
3. how they support return-to-work and recovery;
4. how they meet customers' expectations.

The grants agenda [2] provides more information on the topics of interest for the 2024 proposal.

Eligibility

Grant proposals fall into two major categories: research grants and training grants. Both proposal types must be highly practical, delivered by leading experts and demonstrate significant potential to improve outcomes for people working in Ontario, employers or the broader compensation system.
