Operating Grants Competition

For More Information

Please see the sponsor's website [1] for more information including the Letter of Intent form and instructions.

Description

The Operating Grants competition is the principal means by which the Cancer Research Society fulfills its mission to support fundamental, early translational and Environment-Cancer research on all types of cancer in order to contribute to the advancement of science aimed at preventing, detecting and treating this disease.

The Cancer Research Society is also pleased to offer additional operating grants to the scientific community through their regular competition. These grants on specific types of cancer are in addition to the regular operating grants applicable to the broad field of cancer. The funding of these specific grants is made possible thanks to significant collaborations that the Cancer Research Society has developed over the last years with valuable partners. If you apply for a specific grant award, you must check the designated box or boxes on the Letter of Intent and Application forms. You will be required to justify, on the Application form, how your project applies to the specific area(s) of research you selected.

Eligibility

All applicants and co-applicants must hold an academic appointment in a Canadian university or accredited institution. Collaborators may be from outside of Canada however no funds from the Cancer Research Society can be transferred outside of the country. All applicants must be Canadian citizens or permanent residents. Candidates in postdoctoral training are not eligible. Research associates are not eligible.
