
Parkinson Society Canada – New Investigator Award Grants

Sponsor

Parkinson Society Canada

Program

New Investigator Award Grants

For More Information

Please see the sponsor's website [1] for more information.

Description

This program is a strategic initiative to provide investigators who have recently completed research training with an early opportunity to develop and demonstrate ability to initiate and conduct independent health research. This program, therefore, is part of an active investment in the future of Parkinson's research in Canada, supporting promising individual researchers in their professional development.
